Hospice of Cumberland County Receives National Attention

CROSSVILLE, TN- Hospice of Cumberland County proudly accepts the prestigious Hospice Honors award and national coverage on the National Hospice and Palliative Care website for their excellence.

The Hospice Honors award is nationally accredited and is recognizing Hospice of Cumberland County in their ability to continuously provide the highest level of quality care as measured from the caregiver's point of view.

"The greatest part of this award is that it reflects the wonderful service our team provides day in and day out. Our care is incredibly personal and it feels great that each family knows we are there to support them whenever needed." says Emily Hayes, Community Liaison for Hospice of Cumberland County.

The Hospice Honors award is a result of a government regulated evaluation that measures caregiver satisfaction from hospices across the nation. The evaluation covers 58 specific caregiver satisfaction entities. Hospice of Cumberland County measured well above the national average specializing in timely care, providing emotional support and overall patient care.

"I am extremely proud of Hospice of Cumberland County for achieving this highest of honors and I congratulate them on their success." states Bobby Robertson, the President and CEO of HEALTHCAREfirst

Also increasing Hospice of Cumberland County's national exposure was their Living Out Hospice- Breaking Down Barriers article. The National Hospice and Palliative Care published the article on their Decision Day Blog to advocate that your healthcare decisions matter.

It was the perfect opportunity to show how the specialized comfort care Hospice of Cumberland County provides daily makes such an impact. We are making people more comfortable and the results is changing lives!
