Volunteer Gas

On 12/31/14, a citation was issued to Shailesh Babubhai Patel dba Volunteer Market for the sales of beer to a minor.

Under Section 8-214 and Section 8-218 of the Crossville Municipal Code, the Beer Board has the option of imposing a fine up to $2,500, suspend, or revoke the beer license. No record has been found indicating that this business has received certification under the State Responsible Vendor Act of 2006.

Chief Deputy Bill Ashley from the Cumberland County Sheriff's Dept stated that they conducted a sting of a number of businesses in the County and included Volunteer Market without realizing it was located in the City. He reported that the Cumberland County Beer Board gave all the other establishments a choice of a 90 day suspension or a fine of $2,500. They all paid the fine.

A motion was made by Mayor Pro-tem Pamala Harris, seconded by Council Member Jesse Kerley, that the maximum allowable fine of $2,500 be assessed to Volunteer Gas for violations of the Crossville Beer Code. The motion carried by the following vote:
